LETTER ON ROAD SURVEY IN CALHOUN

Some More Calhoun Citizens Tell What They Think About Survey. The Road Via Williamsville, They Say, Will Bring Much More Trade To Grenada.

Editor Sentinel:

We saw article bearing the signatures of Mr. J. T. Bates and Mr. W. S. Wright in your paper of April 6. These gentlemen remind one somewhat of the fellow who insisted that that a certain thing should be done because somebody had said it best regardless of the cost.

In the first place, it seems to us, that the matter of ultimate cost should cut a big figure in the project. We are aware that there are some who seem to believe that the matter of public outlay amounts to little, and who seem to forget that it is costing more and more to run our government. We borrow and issue bonds. Then we issue more bonds. The folks are beginning to learn that every time a bond is issued that it is a mortgage on the property of the people. If we are to accept as true what we see in your newspaper and in others, our State is losing in population, this section is losing in population, hence the tax burdens are heavier on those who remain.

But getting back particularly to this road survey. Nobody knows which is the straightest route. Nobody knows which is the cheaper route. If it is surveyed and it is shown that the survey across the river near Mr. Stark Willis' is the nearer and more practical route, then we shall have nothing to say. But we do ask to have the line via Williamsville surveyed. We are entitled to that.

There are a good many people who believe that just a very few men in Grenada have played the big "I" and little "you" in saying where roads should be run and where surveys should be made.

There are some who believe that some few in Grenada got together and knowing that Mr. John James was opposed to the road as surveyed, and made a sort of trade with certain supervisors with the view of getting more bonds eventually.

It seems to be generally understood that Grenada County has not enough money to build the road to Calhoun City. Then where are we to get it? We have heard it said that there were some funds somewhere, but it appears to us a mighty bad policy for any county to have money for a certain purpose and only few know about where the money is. It looks to us as if the report of the county treasurer ought to show every dollar and to what funds it belongs.

We believe that Grenada would get a larger trade, that she would reach out into a broader field if the road were to run via Williamsville than if it crosses the river into beat 3. For instance, the people of the section where Mr. J. G. Wood and Mr. Sterling Doolittle live, the people of Sabougla and many other communities would be brought in easy reach of Grenada. These people used to do all their trading at Grenada. It is our honest judgment that if the road crosses the river into beat 3, that Grenada will not get the trade of 50 new families. The other way, she will get the trade of 500 families, or even more. Is it good business for Grenada to run the road via Williamsville?

We are property owners. We pay taxes and we insist that we are at least entitled to considerate treatment.

It seems to us that Messrs. Bates and Wright offered a mighty good argument why Grenada County should run the road by Williamsville when they state that Calhoun County has not the money to cross the river with the road and build it across Calhoun County. Naturally those gentlemen want Grenada County to shoulder the burden. Nobody can blame them for that. But why Grenada County's generosity and unselfishness in this matter?

There is no debate about the ability to build the road cheaper via Williamsville than the other way. Then why not do it?

We know of a reliable contractor who says he will put the road in shape for Grenada County from near

ANOTHER COMMUNICATION ABOUT ROAD

Say If Survey Does Not Show Williamsville Route Shortest and Most Practical They Will Hush, Some Views as to Laying Out Roads.

Editor Grenada Sentinel,

We have just noticed in your paper a letter from two of our Calhoun County citizens, Messrs. Wright and Bates, giving their post office as Calhoun City, though we know them as residents of Coles Creek, trying to give you Grenada people some light or information on why the great highway traversing the State of Mississippi from the rich delta to the prairie belt of Mississippi and into Alabama should remain where it was first located, especially along the part of road between Big Creek and Graysport.

Their statements, "The highways are run to benefit the greatest number of people, on the most direct lines," and "they are built not for one or two, but for a hundred or a thousand years"—we heartily endorse these truths, and this is why we are contending to put the road by Williamsville.

We contend and can prove by signed petitions that the change will benefit four hundred taxpayers in Grenada and Calhoun Counties, and we will admit that it will disfigure forty.

We Sabougla and Williamsville people (not Grenada and Calhoun Counties as ordered) are having made at our own expense, a survey to let all of you know which route is shortest and cheapest and more direct. So no one will have to take the "Eagles route". Now you Cole Creek folks and you folks in the corner of Grenada County by supervisor Anderson's who are backing up those statements in Grenada Sentinel don't get scared about this survey for if you have confidence in your route and what you say about it and believe that the survey made down by Coles Creek and by supervisor Anderson's and across the bottom and down to Graysport is as straight as an eagle can fly there will be no chance of a change.

You who are sticklers to first conclusions, we know you are honest and fair, we believe when by this survey we show the best route, that you will come over and assist us in making this the road for the next "thousand years."

Messrs. Wright and Bates, we think you should be fair in giving data to our neighbors over in Grenada County. You should write another letter and let them know we have $400,000 to put on this East and West road instead of two hundred thousand you told them about.

We want to suggest a reason you may offer as a formation for your belief that the four hundred thousand dollars will do all this.

We will just mention that we have had a North and South road of thirty five miles, road bed and bridges built at a cost of one hundred and eighty five thousand dollars, even crossing Yalobusha and Scoona, and have had the contract to hard surface this thirty five miles at a total cost of three hundred and fifteen thousand dollars.

The Grenada County folks will

GREAT MEETING OF STATE FEDERATION WOMEN'S CLUBS

Grenada Delighted to Have the Opportunity of Playing Host to These Cultured Women Who Have Set Themselves to Many Serious Tasks. Many Phases of Civic and Political Life Touched by the Proceedings. Fine Spirit at Meeting. Many Notables of Federation Present.

The twenty fifth annual convention of the Mississippi Federation of Women's Clubs was called to order at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning by its President, Mrs. J. C. Hardy of Gulfport, in the auditorium of the beautiful administration building of Grenada College where the sessions of the Convention are being held.

The invocation was pronounced by Rev. J. R. Cunningham of the Presbyterian church, after which the President read a list of the various committees and thus were the wheels of the Convention set in motion.

The roll call showed a few less than one hundred delegates present, but announcement was made that others were on the way, many of whom were expected on the trains which arrived at about Noon.

The outstanding feature of Tuesday's session was the report of president and other state officers which provoked more or less discussion. The reports showed that there are something near two hundred affiliated clubs throughout the State. One of the many things worthy of note is the activity of the various clubs in the State. It developed that all the organizations are getting more and more into active work and that almost every feature of civic work is receiving that aid and that encouragement which gives assurance of the most effective work and the most satisfactory results.

To a male observer who has on many occasions watched men gather for conventions and otherwise, the assembling of these women was not much unlike what men do. However, there was a marked absence of the whisperings and little side conferences which men are charged with when they are said to be "laying plans" to capture this or that part of the meeting, or to rout this or that man and his friends. But this may possibly come later. The President seemed quite at home and she and the secretary and other officers could not have evinced more seriousness of purpose and a more consecrated deliberation had they been calling the United States Congress together.

The welcome address was made by Hon. A. M. Carothers of the local bar, and it was thoroughly in keeping with the occasion. Miss Miriam Jones, instructor in English at Grenada College, made an address of welcome in behalf of the Women's Club of Grenada County. The response to the welcoming speeches was made by Miss Colie Covington of Hazelhurst.

The report of the Civic Chairman, Mrs. Fred Streibich of Okolona, was a most interesting paper, and aroused much interest.

The fact that this is the "Silver Jubilee" of the Federation makes the meeting one of more than usual interest and means that there will be no little historical reminiscences. Mrs. D. H. Hebron, who called the Clubs together in Kosciusko in 1898, no doubt builded wisely than she knew. The Hebron scholarship has been created as a memorial to the life and work of Mrs. Hebron. Many teachers through this scholarship have secured a year's training at Chicago University with all expenses paid. Up until last year this scholarship was a gift, but now it is made a loan to be paid back in five years without interest.

A rather embarrassing thing occurred in connection with the award of the loving cup to Grenada College as the winner in the competitive musical concert. It became known Thursday afternoon that a mistake had been made in tabulating the figures of the judges which gave the award to Bellhaven College, but no announcement was made until Wednesday night, when Mrs. Hardy, in a very happy manner, explained the error and told how much regret was felt that an erroneous announcement should have been made. Grenada College very graciously accepted the correction and forthwith wired Bellhaven College its congratulations.

The nominating committee reported the following nominations: Miss Susie V. Powell of the A. & M. College, first vice president; Mrs. Nellie Nugent Somerville, Greenville, second vice president; Mrs. J. M. Lynch, Tupelo, recording secretary. There were two nominations for treasurer, Mrs. Charles Higdon of Brookhaven and Mrs. E. E. Burkes of Hazelhurst, hence it will fall upon the convention to decide between these two candidates.

Thursday morning was another beautiful day. The weather seemed to be smiling on the Convention and to be adding good cheer to its deliberations. The delegates entered upon the third and last day's work with a keenness and relish almost remarkable.

The Convention adjourned Thursday night. One of the features of the closing hours was the address of Mrs. Hardy on "The Federation of today". The presentation in prizes in literature by Mrs. J. M. Lynch excited much interest. There was a prize of $20. each by the following institutions: Best short story, Mississippi State College for Women; best poem, University of Mississippi and best essay, Millsaps College.

The Mississippi Federation of Women's Clubs laid siege to Grenada Tuesday morning and the siege lasted until Thursday night. Unlike the sieges of wartime periods, this was an exceedingly pleasant one to the besieged, and they will be sorry that it is over and that these brilliant women have gone to their homes.

The average Mississippi individual has never, until recently, given much thought to women's organizations, and especially those which have endeavored to deal with matters or problems outside of church affairs or of a purely local nature. The Mississippi State Federation of Women's Clubs was organized first in 1898, with Mrs. D. H. Hebron of Kosciusko as president, but notwithstanding that the Grenada convention marks one quarter of a century of its growth and progress, it has never attained a momentum of development like that which has come to it within the war gave all kinds of women's work and organizations a place that they never before had, and undoubtedly the right of the ballot has been a very potent force in bringing women's clubs, and particularly the Mississippi Federation as well as the National Federation, into a prominence that it would have taken many years otherwise to have attained.

The Federation of Women's Clubs is in no sense political, yet outside of the questions that appeal to the hearts and the judgment of its membership, it is educative and of necessity phases of political matters and political issues are brought to the fore.

The Mississippi Federation of Women's Clubs has a membership of about 7,000 and includes nearly 175 clubs in its jurisdiction. Seventy three out of the 82 counties in Mississippi are represented.

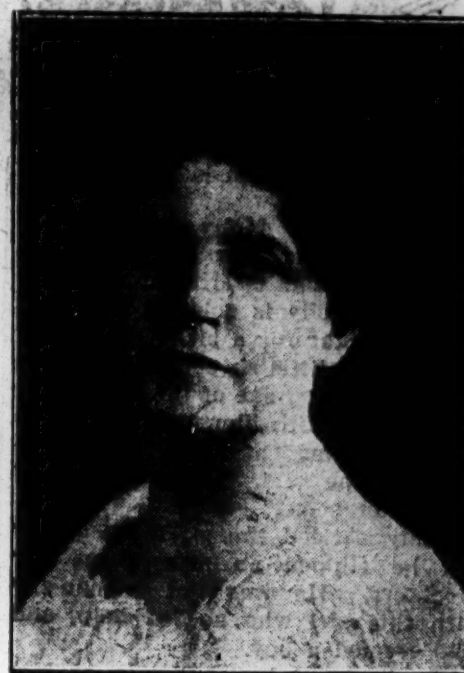

Mrs. J. C. Hardy, of Gulfport, is the president and well has she met the demand of that important place.

It would be impossible in the space that can be devoted to this article to mention all the leading lights of the convention, for there were many. Mrs. Lizzie George Henderson showed herself to be alert to every question, and her report on the revision of the constitution showed that she possesses some of the traits of her distinguished father who was the leading spirit that wrote the present constitution of the State of Mississippi.

Mrs. Sam Covington and Miss Colie Covington, Miss Susie Powell, and numerous others seemed to have the work of the convention right on their tongue's end.

These delegates deported themselves well as organizers and as being always deferential to the presiding officer and to all rules and regulations for the government of the convention. One of the first rules announced was that the delegates should remove their hats, and straightway came off the hats and

DR. FERGUSON ON PUBLIC EXTRAVAGANCE

Too Much Law-making, He Thinks. Does Not Value Highly Money Spent "Teaching" Agriculture. Incidentally Raps Live Stock Board.

Editor Sentinel:

Will you allow me space in your excellent paper to say that your timely editorials to the effect that there should be retrenchment and economy to the end that the State government and the various public institutions should be run on less money, certainly should not spend more than the revenue collected, are winning favor. Your editorials reinforced by such articles as that of my friend White Whitaker are causing the taxpayers to think along these lines and the people to make demands for better business methods in the conduct of government.

May I join the protestants against the activities of the law-mill? The excessive amount of law-making of the U. S. Congress, in State legislatures and in municipal councils is often done to pass laws for the purpose of creating jobs for the so-called "faithful" of the party in power and with no purpose to improve the conditions of the public.

Let us reflect on the last few years and bring to mind how many hundreds of different commissions, employing innumerable inspectors, have been created, and the appalling cost of these things. There seems to be no limit to public power and the commission creators and commissions seem to act upon the idea that there is no bottom to the public treasury.

The passage of so many laws by the National and State governments, which make necessary more jobs, are beginning to tell upon the people. And while those who have allowed themselves to think of the effect of all these jobs, know something of the appalling cost, we find a few that ought to know better and who count themselves leaders in thought clamoring for more laws whereby there will be still more jobs.

Those who are watching with serious eyes and who are trying to stem the tide of high taxes, bonds and more bonds—and a bond is in plain terms a mortgage on everybody's property—are asking themselves, "Is the fight we are making against a species of vandalism on the public treasury worth the cost? Is it appreciated by those in whose name the fight is made?" I think so. The tide sweeps on. The cry is, "get the money and let somebody else pay the bill," but there has come a halting time, and I say again that the people are thinking about what all these offices and public burdens mean as never before.

The business of marketing the farmers' crops has not been solved, yet we all know that he needs something, what that is, it seems to me somebody ought to be wise enough to answer. But it has not been done, and yet we see people running all over the country, many of them at public expense, talking about this very thing.

Much money has been spent in health work. Has the work been done that was promised by those getting appropriations for the work?

What has all the big appropriations for the live stock doctors and

BILBO PLEADS GUILTY TO CONTEMPT

Enters Plea of Guilty For Not Answering Summons of Federal Court and Asks Mercy. Jail Sentence and Fine of $100.

Oxford, Miss., April 16—Theodore G. Bilbo, of Poplarville, former governor of Mississippi, today was fined $100 and sent to jail here for 30 days following a hearing on contempt charges before Federal Judge Edwin Holmes, of the United States district court, which opened here this morning.

Mr. Bilbo had no counsel, offered no defense and threw himself on the mercy of the court. Immediately after sentence was pronounced the former governor petitioned Judge Holmes to allow him time before beginning to serve sentence, stating that he had some cases in circuit court in Pearl River county to handle. This the judge denied.

"Had you been a common laboring man," said Judge Holmes, "the sentence would have been the same. You are intelligent enough to know when the summons was served on you that you should have appeared."

There was no attorney or argument on either side. It was all a very brief matter. The case was called, the charge of contempt read and sentence was imposed.

The citation for contempt of court was due to the failure of Mr. Bilbo to appear as a witness in the trial last December of a suit for damages filed by Miss Frances Birkhead, of New Orleans, a stenographer, against Lee M. Russell, governor of Mississippi.

Mr. Bilbo was summoned as a witness for the complainant. Among other allegations, Miss Birkhead charged Gov. Russell with seduction. After Bilbo's failure to appear, he was charged with contempt, was served with papers by U. S. Marshal R. O. Edwards, and required to give bond in the sum of $5,000 to appear in court.

The courtroom was crowded when the case against the former governor was called this morning.

Oxford, Miss., April 17.—To a press reporter former governor Bilbo said today, "I will say this much in advance, however, that after 12 years of faithful service as senator, lieutenant-governor and governor it would hardly be fair to my friends to close my political career in jail."

Rumors were current that Mr. Bilbo would announce his candidacy for governor, but confirmation from him was lacking. Neither would he say just who he was waiting to confer with before issuing his formal statement.

boards done for the stock industry? Of course it is true that there has been much development in the science of medicine and in the treatment of live stock, but would that not have been done without the costly experiment of so much live stock board? It is true that there is being raised less stock by the real farmer than ever before. Why?

The farmer is not making any greater yield per acre on his farm. He is making no bigger crops and everybody knows that a very large per cent of them are dissatisfied and would get off the farm if they could. So what has been accomplished by all the money spent by the State and the federal government to teach farming?

The writer is somewhat of the opinion that had the National and our State governments loaned the money to the farmer, without a home, at a low rate of interest to buy him a little farm, which has been spent in talking about farming, teaching farming, how to can fruit and etc. and which has been recklessly spent by live stock boards, that the government would owe less and the people have more.

Let it be hoped that the next State administration and the next legislature will look into these things and cut out the waste—it is of public business.

There should be more work and fewer employees in nearly every branch of public business.

This statement is not intended to reflect on those who happen to be in either State or federal service. I am sure that they are all elegant gentlemen.

Inactive Liver

"I have had trouble with an inactive liver," wrote Mrs. S. Nichols, of 4412 Spencer St., Houston, Texas. "When I would get constipated, I would feel a light, dizzy feeling in my head. To get up in the morning with a lightness in the head and a tremble feeling is often a sign that the stomach is out of order. For this I took Thedford's Black-Draught, and without a doubt can say I have never found its equal in any liver medicine. It not only cleans the liver, but leaves you in such a good condition. I have used it a long time, when food does not seem to set well, or the stomach is a little sour."

"This is Miss Molly Casey," said Sandy gravely, setting down the girl. "Miss Casey, this is Mr. Peters. Mormon, Miss Molly is going to tie up to the Three Star for a bit."

Mormon, a little sheepish at the suddenly developing age of the girl as she shook hands with him, recovered himself and beamed at her. "You're sure welcome," he said. "Boss hired you? Cowgirl or cook?"

Sandy noticed the girl's lip quiver and he slipped an arm about her shoulders. He was not woman-shy with this girl who needed help, and who seemed a boy.

"Don't you take no notice of him an' his kiddin'," he said. "We'll make him rustle some grub fo' all of us an' then we'll turn in. I'll show you yore room. Up the stairs an' the last door on the right. Here's some matches. There's a lamp on the bureau up there. Give you a call when supper's ready."

He led her to the door and gave her a friendly little shove, guessing that she wanted to be alone.

"The kid's lost her father, lost most everything 'cept her dawg," he said to Mormon. "Thought we might adopt her, sort of, then I thought mebbe we'd hire her—for mascot."

"Lost her daddy? An' me hornin' in an' tryin' to kid her! I ain't got the sense of a drowned gopher, sometimes," said Mormon contritely.

"She's game, plumb through, ain't she, Sam? Stands right up to trouble?" "You bet, Mormon, open up a can of greengages, will ye? I reckon she's got a sweet tooth, same as me."

Molly Casey was not through standing up to trouble. They coaxed her to eat and she managed to make a meal that satisfied them. Then she got up to go to her room, with Grit nuzzling close to her, her fingers in his ruff, twisting nervously at the strands of hair.

"Do you reckon," she asked the three partners, "that Dad knows he fooled me when he told me to jump? If I'd known he c'dn't git clear I'd have stuck—same as he would if I was caught. Do you reckon he knows that—now?"

"I'd be surprised if he didn't," said Sandy gravely. "You did what he wanted, anyway."

She looked at them gravely and went out.

"Botherin' about playin' square in jumpin'," said Sandy. "That get is square on all twelve edges."

"How'd you come to know so much about gels?" asked Mormon.

"Me? I don't know the first thing about 'em," protested Sandy.

"No more'n any man," put in Sam.

"'Cept it's Mormon. He's sure had the experience."

"Experience," said Mormon, with a yawn. "May teach a man somethin' about mules but not wimmen. No, sir, that feller in the po'try who says, 'I learned about wimmen from 'ar'."

CROWDS ATTENDING ADJUSTMENT SALE

The Sentinel has been advised by the proprietors of The Railroad Wreck Store that one of the largest crowds that has ever attended a Sale in Grenada visited their store on the opening day of their adjustment sale which was announced in a double page advertisement in this paper last week. Hundreds of customers were served during the first day and all seemed to go away highly pleased with the values they had secured. This concern states that it must raise $20,000 to satisfy its creditors and all indications are that an amount in excess of this figure will be realized. Prices during the sale are being cut and cut deep and those who are looking for real bargains would do well to read the ad of the store in this week's Sentinel.

The following letter shows that the business columns of The Sentinel produce results:

Dear Sirs:-

We want you to know that our double page advertisement in your last week's issue brought the greatest crowd to our store on the opening day of our sale that we have ever had the pleasure of serving since our opening in Grenada. We believe that it was the largest crowd that any sale in Grenada ever drew.

Believing in the value of advertising space in your columns, you may enter our order for a half-page space in your edition this week.

was drawn. "Now, this gel of Casey's 'pears like what her dad 'ud call a good prospect, but you can't tell. Fool's gold is bright enough, but you can't change it to the real stuff no matter how you polish it."

"Mormon, you warn't calculated to handle wimmen. This lil' gel is game as they make 'em, an' I reckon she's right sweet if she only gits a chance. Leastwise, I see several signs of pay dirt this afternoon an' evenin' as I reckon Sandy done the same. She's been trailin' her dad all over h—I an' creation, talkin' like him, swearin' like him, actin' like him. Never see nothin' different. All she needs is a chance."

"What's the idee in pickin' on me?" asked Mormon aggressively. "She's as welcome as grass in spring. They ain't no one got a bigger heart than me fo' kids."

"No one got a bigger heart, mebbe," said Sam caustically. "Nor none a smaller brain. All engine an' no gasoline in the tank."

"She's an orphan," went on Sandy. "She ain't got a cent that I know of. The claims her old dad mentioned ain't no good because, in the first place, they'd have to be worked if they was; second place, they're over to Dynamite an' the sharps say Dynamite's a flivver. All she has in sight is the dawg. Some dawg! Comes in from the desert an' takes us out to her an' Pat Casey—him dyin'. Ef it hadn't been fo' the dawg, she'd have stayed there, to my notion. Got some sort of idee she'd deserted ship of she hadn't stuck till it was too late fo' her to crawl out of that silt in the mesa. She's fifteen an' she's got sense. I figger we better turn in right now an' hold a pow-wow with the gel tomorrow."

"Second the motion," said Sam.

"Third it," said Mormon.

And the Three Musketeers of the Range went off to bed.

CHAPTER III

Molly.

Molly came down next morning in the faded blue gingham. Sandy marked how worn it was and marked an item in his mind—clothes. He smiled at her with the sudden showing of his sound white teeth that made many friends. She was much too young, too frank, too like a boy to affect him with any of his woman-shyness.

Molly had a snubby nose, a wide mouth, Irish eyes of blue that were far apart and crystal clear, freckles and a lot of brown hair that she wore in a long braid wound twice about her well-shaped head. She was a combination of curves and angles, of well-rounded neck and arms and legs with collar-bones and hips over-apparent, immature but not awkward.

Grit, entering with her, divided his attentions among the men, shoving a moist nose at last into Sandy's hair.

GROUPS ATTENDING ADJUSTMENT SALE

What is known as "Cuff's Pasture," south of town, has been leased by the Grenada Golf Club, recently organized, and the laying out of a nine-hole course will soon be completed. It is hoped to have the course ready for play within the next two weeks.

Quite a number are members of the club and others have signified their intention of joining. The membership fee is small and the monthly dues are negligible. The club hopes to have a full membership by the time the grounds are ready and all indications are that its desire will be realized.

Golf is one of the most desirable forms of recreation and is indulged in by both old and young. It combines science and skill with enjoyment and is one of the most fascinating sports known today. All who have played it are enthusiastic over the formation of a club in Grenada and one need not be surprised if "what did you make it in?" becomes the chief topic of discussion at the family table in the very near future.

and lying down obedient, his tall thumping amicably.

"Fo' a sheepdawg," said Mormon. "he sure shapes fine."

Molly's eyes flashed. "He don't know he's a sheepdawg," she protested. "He's never even seen one, less it was a mountain sheep, way up against the skyline. Don't you like him?"

"I like him fine," Mormon answered hurriedly. "Fine."

"Ef you-all didn't, we c'd shack on somewheres. I c'd git work down to the settlements, I reckon. I don't aim to put you out any. I've been thinkin' about that. Less you should happen to want a woman to run the house. I don't know much about housekeepin', but I c'd larn. It's a woman's job, chasin' dirt. I can cook—some. Dad used to say my camp-bread an' biscuits was fine. I c'd earn what I eat, I reckon. An' what Grit u'd eat. We don't aim to stay unless we pay—some-way."

There was a touch of fire to her independence, a chip on the shoulder of her pride the three partners recognized and respected.

"See here, Molly Casey"—Sandy used exactly the same tone and manner he would have taken with a boy—"that's yore way of lookin' at it. Then there's our side. You figger yore dad was a pritty good miner, I reckon?"

The last two words he says was 'Molly' and 'mines.' I give him my word then and there, like he would have to me, to watch out for yore interests. My word is my partners' word. I'm willin' to gamble those claims of his'll pan out some day. Until they do, ef you-all 'll stay on at the Three Star, stop Mormon stompin' in from the corral with dirty boots, ride herd on Sam an' me the same way, mebbe cook us up some of them biscuits once in a while, why, it'll be fine! Then there's yore schoolin'. Yore dad 'ud wish you to have that. I don't suppose you've had a heap. An' you sabe, Molly, that you swear mo' often than a gel usually swears."

She opened her eyes wide. "But I don't cuss when I say 'em. An' I don't use the worst ones. Dad wouldn't let me. I can read an' write, spell an' cipher some. But Dad needed me more'n I needed learnin'."

"But you got to have it," said Mormon earnestly. "S'pose them claims pan out way rich and you git all-fired wealthy? Bein' a gel, you sabe clothes, diamonds, silks, satins an' feather fuss. You'll want to learn the planner. You'll want to know what to git an' how to wear it."

"If you did that—took my Daddy's place," she said, "why, we'd be partners, same as him an' me was. When the claims pan out, half of it'll have to be yores. I won't stay no other way."

The glances of the three partners exchanged a conclusion, a mutual approval.

"That goes," said Sandy, putting out his hand. "Fo' all three of us. When the mines are payin' dividends, we split, half on 'count of the Three Star, half to you. Providin' you fall in line with the eddication, so's to do yore dad yore's an' us, yore partners, due credit when the money starts comin' in. Sabe?"

"I don't sabe the eddication part of it," she answered. "Jest what does that mean? I don't want to go to school with a lot of kids who'll lat at me."

"You don't have to. As partners," Sandy went on earnestly, "I don't mind tellin' you that the Three Bar has put all its chips into the kitty an', while we figger sure to win, we can't cash in any till the increase of the herds starts to make a 'showin'. Not till after the fall round-up, anyway. So yore eddication'll have to be put off a bit. Meantime you'll learn to ride an' rope an' mebbe break a colt or two, between meals an' ridin' herd on the dirt. When you start in, it'll be at one of them schools in the East where they make a speshulity of western helresses. How's that sound?"

"Sounds fine. On'y, you've picked up Dad's hand to gamble with. Mebbe it ain't yore game, nor the one you'd choose to play if it wasn't forced on you."

"Sister," said Sam, "yore skinnin' yore hides too close. Sandy 'ud gamble on which way a horn-towd 'll split. It's meat an' drink to him. We won this ranch on a gamble—him playin'. He gambles as he breathes. An' whatever hand he plays, me an' Mormon backs. Why, if we win on this minin' deal, we're way ahead of the game, seein' we don't put up anythin' in cold collateral. It's a sure-fire clinch."

"Sam says it," backed Sandy. "One good gamble!"

Molly fumbled at the waistband of her one-piece gown, working at it with her fingers, producing a golden eagle which she handed to Sandy.

"That's my luck-piece," she said.

"Dad give it to me one time he cleaned up good on a placer claim. Nex' time you gamble, will you play that—for me? Half an' half on the winnin's. I sure need some clothes."

The glint of the born gambler's superstition showed in Sandy's eyes as he took the ten dollars.

"I sure will do that," he said. "An' mighty soon. Now, then, talk's over, all agreed. Sam an' me has got some work to do outside. Won't be back much before sun-down. Mormon, he's goin' to be middlin' busy, too. Molly, you jest acquaint yoreself with the Three Star. Riders won't be back till dark. No one about but Mormon, Pedro the cook, an' Joe. Rest up all you can. I'm goin' to bring yore dad in."

Tears welled in Molly's eyes as she thanked him. Again Sandy saw the girlish frankness change to the gratefulness of a woman's spirit, looking out at him between her lids. It made him a little uneasy. The men went out together, walking toward the corral.

"Sam an' me's goin' to bring in what's left of Pat Casey, Mormon. We'll take the buckboard, with a tarp to stow him under. Up to you to knock together a coffin an' dig a grave under the cottonwoods an' below the spring. Git Joe to help you. No sense in lettin' the gel see you, of course."

Mormon rounded up the half-breed Joe, to help him dig the grave, first locating Molly in a hammock he had slung for her in the shade of the trees by the cistern.

The soil was soft and clear from stone. An hour sufficed to sink a shaft for Pat Casey's last bed. Mormon carefully adjusted the headboard he had fashioned from a thick plank, to be carved later when the lettering was decided upon. This done, he buckled on the belt he had discarded, from which his holster and revolver swung. Sandy carried two guns, his partners one, habits of earlier, more stirring days, totting them as inevitably as they wore spurs, though there was little occasion to use them on the Three Star, save to put a hurt animal out of misery, or kill a rattlesnake.

Moisture streamed from Mormon's face, patched his clothes as the heat and his exertions temporarily melted some of his superfluous adiposity. He wiped his face with his bandanna. Suddenly his big body stiffened. He heard Molly's voice from the cistern, frightened, then storming in anger. Mormon ran at a sprinter's gait from the cottonwoods, along a side of the corral, through the trees bordering the cistern. The girl was out of the hammock, facing a man in riding breeches and puttees, his face concealed for the moment by his hands. A sleeve of the girl's frock was torn away, the outworn fabric in streamers. The man's hands came down and Mormon recognized him for Jim Plimsoll, owner of the Good Luck pool parlors, in the little cattle town of Hereford, where fero, chuckaluck and craps were played in the back room, owner also of a near-by horse ranch. There was blood on his face, the marks of finger nails.

Plimsoll jumped for the girl, caught her by one arm roughly. She struggled fiercely, silently, striking at him with her free fist. Mormon's gun flashed from its sheath as he shouted at the man. Plimsoll wheeled, releasing Molly. His dark face was livid with rage, a pistol gleamed as he plucked it from beneath the waistband of his riding breeches. The turf spat between his feet as Mormon fired.

"Got the drop on ye, Jim! Nex' shot'll be higher. Shove that gun back. Now, then," as Plimsoll sullenly obeyed, "what in h—I do you figger yore, doin'" Mormon's jovial face was tense, his voice stern and cold.

"Keep still," he ordered, walking toward the pair, his gun covering Plimsoll, the cheery blue of his eyes changed to the color of ice in the shade, the pupils mere pin-points. Molly glanced at him once, fingers caressing her bruised arm.

"He kissed me while I was asleep, the d—d skunk!" she flared. "I'd sooner hev rattlesnake-pizen on 'my lips!" She stopped rubbing the arm to scrub fiercely at her mouth with the back of her hand.

"It ain't the first time I've kissed you," said Plimsoll. "Yore dad didn't stop me from doin' it. I didn't notice you scratchin' like a wildcat, either. Where's your dad? And where do you come in on this deal between old friends?" he demanded of Mormon.

"Her dad's dead," said Mormon simply. "Molly is stayin' fo' a spell at the Three Star. Sandy Bourke, Sam Manning an' me is lookin' out fo' her, an' we aim to do a good job of it. Sabe?"

Plimsoll's thin-lipped mouth sneered with his eyes.

"Gone in for baby-farmin', have you, or robbin' the cradle? Who's playin' the king in this deal? I—" The leer suddenly vanished from his face, the tip of his tongue licked his lips. Mormon's gun was slowly coming up level with his heart, steady as Mormon's gaze, finger compressing the trigger.

"The law reckons you a man—so fur," said Mormon. "Yore pals 'ud pack a jury to hang me fo' shootin' the dirty heart out of you, but—ef you ever let out a foul word or a look about that gel, I'll take my chance of there bein' enough white men around here to 'quit me. There ought to be a bounty on yore scalp an' ears. You hear me, Jim Plimsoll, I'm talkin' straight. Now git, head yore haws fo' the short trail to Hereford an' keep travelin'. Pronto!"

Plimsoll's pony was standing under the trees and the gambler turned and, with an attempted laugh, swaggered toward it.

The threat to his personal safety, his desire to fling a snarl at Mormon, seemed to have halted any correlation of the statement concerning the death of the girl's father until now.

"It that's true about your dad," he said, "I'm sorry. How did he die?"

Sensing the hypocrisy of the shift to sympathy, the girl took a step forward. Mormon's pupils contracted again; his finger lifted to press the trigger it touched.

"It's none of yore business," said the girl. "You git."

"None of my business? I don't agree with you there, you little h—I—weasel. Your father and he had more than one deal together. You and I may have to do business together yet, Molly mine!"

Molly's teeth showed between her parted lips, her fingers were hooked. Mormon anticipated her indignant leap. His gun spurred fire, the expensive Stetson broadrim seemed lifted from Plimsoll's hair by an invisible hand. With the report it sailed forward, side-slipped, landed on its rim, perforated by a steel-nosed .38-caliber bullet.

"I give you last warnin'," roared Mormon.

Plimsoll sprang ahead like a racer at the starter's shot, snatched at his hat, missed it, let it lie as he ran on to his horse, mounted and went galloping off. Mormon holstered his gun and swung about to Molly, standing with crimson cheeks, blazing eyes and a young bosom turbulent with emotions.

"I wisht you'd killed him. I wisht you'd killed him!" she cried. "I wisht I had a gun—or a knife! I hate him! When he says he was ever in a deal with Dad, he lies. Dad stood for him and that was all. He pertended to be awful strong for Dad, pertended to be fond of me, jest to swarm 'round Dad, for some reason. Brought me a doll once. I was thirteen. What in h—I did I want with a doll?" she panted. "I burned the d—n thing that night in the fire. He kissed me an' Dad seemed to think I owed it him for the doll. I nigh bit my lip off afterward. I wisht yore first shot had been higher, or yore second lower, Peters."

"Call me Uncle Mormon, Molly. He's sure some snake. But we'll take care of Jim Plimsoll, yore Uncle Mormon, with Sam an' Sandy."

Patting Molly's shoulder, Mormon smiled at her with his irresistible grin, and she reflected it faintly as she tucked in the remnants of her torn sleeve.

"That's the only dress I got till Sandy Bourke wins me some money," she said.

His arm around her shoulder, purposely chatting away, Mormon led Molly toward the ranch house. Plimsoll's horse was stirring up a dust-cloud on the way to Hereford, other puffs, far away toward the range, proclaimed that the buckboard was on its way with its funeral freight.

The body of the old prospector was lowered into the grave with the last of the daylight. Molly Casey walked away alone, her head high, the corner of her lower lip caught under her teeth, eyes winking back the tears. It was the headboard that had forced her struggle for composure. Mormon had marked on it, with the heavy lead of a carpenter's pencil.

"Ef that suits you," he told Molly, "they's a chap over to Hereford who's a wolf on carvin'. My letterin's punk. When yore mines pay you c'd have it in stone."

"You-all are awful good to me," was all she could trust herself to say. Each of the Three Musketeers of the Range felt a tug to take her in his arms and comfort her. Instead they looked at one another, as men of their breed do. Sam pulled at his mustache. Mormon rubbed the top of his bald head and Sandy rolled a cigarette and smoked it silently.

Molly ate no supper that night. Before dawn Sandy thought he heard the door of her room open and soft foot-falls stealing down the stairs. When he went later to the spring he found the grave covered with the wild blooms that the girl had picked in the dewy dawn.

RETURNS FROM TIPPAN COUNTY

About six months ago Spiva's One Night Itch Remedy was introduced in Tippah County, Mississippi. The first night was a lonesome one for it had not one friend or acquaintance in the county. It is now well known and popular there. Five hundred dollar jars have been purchased in that county and presumably used for itch, eczema, etc., and not one person has asked for the money back. "One night is right." Sold by 2d Class and Corner Drug Stores. Anona Company, Jacksonville, Tenn.—Adv.

ALL WHO WANT TO VOTE IN THE PRIMARY

Must Have Registered Since Order For New Registration.

The board of supervisors some three months ago ordered a new registration of the voters of Grenada County. The board was of the opinion that a new registration was necessary because the old poll books and the registration books were badly marked up and there was confusion otherwise in understanding just who in many cases, was accurately and correctly registered.

Hence it was necessary to get new books and to reregister all who desire to vote.

Bear in mind that a registration under which one voted last year will be no good this year.

Since the order by the board of supervisors and the receipt of the New Books, I have registered a large number of voters, yet the great majority are still to register.

In order to accommodate the voters, I will visit the different precincts of the County on the dates named below for the purpose of registering all who desire to register.

Tie Plant precinct, Monday, May 7. Elliott precinct, Tuesday, May 8. Carpenter's Store precinct, Wednesday, May 9. Pleasant Grove Precinct, Thursday, May 10.

Gore Springs precinct, Friday May 11. Graysport precinct, Monday, May 14. Mt. Nebo precinct, Tuesday, May 15.

Spears precinct, Wednesday, May 16. Kirkman precinct, Thursday, May 17. Hardy precinct, Friday, May 18. Mullin precinct, Monday, May 21. Mims precinct, Tuesday, May 22. Pea Ridge precinct, Wednesday, May 23.

Oxberry precinct, Thursday, May 24. Holcomb precinct, Friday, May 25.

For the precincts of East and West Grenada, the voters will find me at my office at the court house any time except on the dates named above.

The books will be open at my office to register the voters of any precinct at any time except on the dates above named when I will be away.

The voters of the County should bear in mind that all who want to register will be required to do so on or before July 6, or four months before the November election, if they want to vote in the August primary or primaries.

MRS. R. E. WILBURN PASSES AWAY

A very sad death occurred Sunday night at eleven o'clock when Mrs. R. E. Wilburn passed away at her home in Grenada. She had been ill for some weeks from a complication of diseases but had borne her sufferings with patience and a resignation to the will of her Maker. The funeral services were conducted the next afternoon at four o'clock by Rev. Melville Johnson, pastor of the Methodist Church, of which deceased was a member, and the remains were laid to rest in Bethel Church burying ground, three miles from Carrollton, in Carroll County.

Mrs. Wilburn was the mother of seven children, the youngest a baby under three months old, and it is these who will miss most her care and devotion. The parting of a mother from her children, especially from ones so young, is a sad event but the sorrowing ones should remember that the Divine Creator has a purpose in every act and they should take consolation in the fact that there is a life beyond the grave, where there will be no deaths and no separations from loved ones.

To the distressed husband and other bereaved ones, The Sentinel extends its sincere sympathy.

A FINE ADVERTISEMENT OF A FINE COMMUNITY

The Commercial Appeal has just received the Home Invitation Edition of The Grenada (Miss.) Sentinel. The Grenada Sentinel is edited by Mr. O. F. Lawrence. It has always been a good newspaper.

The Sentinel is a good paper for Grenada County. It looks after home matters and home conditions. It is interested in education, health, good roads and good farms.

One of the special sections of The Sentinel is devoted to matters concerning colored people. The negroes of Grenada County ought to be happy in their relation with the white people. They get a square deal in business and opportunities for improvement are open to them.

Grenada is a good county in which to buy land. It is a good county in which to live. The town of Grenada is at the junction of the Memphis and Jackson divisions of the Illinois Central Railway. Another road swings in from the delta. The transportation facilities to the north and south are good.

This particular edition of The Grenada Sentinel should be scattered throughout the north and northwest.

For the benefit of the northern people we might say that the first killing frost in Grenada County is around October 31 and the last about March 22. The average rainfall is about 53 inches. March is the wettest month.

Not the least interesting is the story written by E. N. Lowe, state geologist of Mississippi.

We congratulate Brother Lawrence upon his splendid edition.—Commercial Appeal, April 18.

MUCH ADO ABOUT A LITTLE THING

We think that much ado is being made about a very little thing when the press gives so much attention to the fact that Gov. Bilbo is in jail at Oxford to serve a sentence of 30 days for having refused to obey a summons from the United States court to appear as a witness in the suit of Francis Birkhead against Gov. Russell for alleged immoral relations with her.

Theodore plead guilty and threw himself on the mercy of the court. Suppose an ordinary clerk in a store, a farmer, or day laborer had been summoned in an important case and had ignored the mandate why, of course, he would have been punished for contempt, and very properly.

We wish Theodore no harm, but he talked loud and long when the Birkhead suit was filed, hence it seems that he is in the attitude of the parrot who swore at a passer by and got his skull cracked for the talking.

No, Theodore is not wounded in pride. Can't hurt that. He is really enjoying being in the limelight. It is a sort of resurrection to him, at least he thinks so.

THE FEDERATION MEET

The Sentinel hopes that the members of the Mississippi Federation of Women's Clubs have enjoyed themselves in Grenada and that they will carry away gracious impressions of our town.

The Sentinel knows that Grenada has been delighted with the Convention. It has been a real delight to look in on this gathering of cultured women and to observe the seriousness and the earnestness which has been displayed in handling every question that has arisen.

Out of the meeting let it be hoped that greater and better, higher and nobler things will come to Mississippi and that each one may carry such an inspiration back home as will electrify their communities in discovering what they need to lead our people to the very top of the mountain of purity in citizenship and idealism in the home. Womanhood and the home are synonymous terms in our civilization and as the days pass may the Federation make this even more so. We cannot have great men and great women unless we have great homes.

WE NEED THE NEGRO

Under the above caption the Jackson Daily News throws a bouquet to the "Home Invitation Edition" of The Sentinel and incidentally commends article of A. H. Henderson:

"Some splendid agricultural missionary work is contained in the current issue of The Grenada Sentinel in the shape of articles advising the negroes to remain in the South.

"One of these articles is from the pen of A. H. Henderson, a negro farmer, and he puts the subject so forcibly before the members of his race that it is sure to have a fine effect.

"Although the South has not endeavored to place any obstacle in the way of the northward migration of its negroes, the plain truth is that we dislike very much to see them go, and the exodus has produced serious industrial problems in many communities, especially in the rural districts.

"Incidentally, the current number of The Grenada Sentinel is a corking good paper. It contains forty pages, and all are bristling with live reading matter pertaining to problems that vitally affect the welfare of Mississippi."

PROPERTY OWNERS CAN PROTEST

For the information of any property owner in Grenada who may not be already informed as to how to proceed, and whose property abuts one of the streets which it is proposed to pave, as shown by the ordinance of the City Council which was first published last week and will appear in The Sentinel of this week and next, we desire to say that the property owners can petition the Council against said paving at its regular May meeting and if a majority of the resident property owners object to the paving, then, under the law, it cannot be done.

As this paper understands, the total cost of the paving is estimated at from $150,000 to $175,000 and if the matter is proceeded with, it is understood that the Council will take the necessary steps to issue bonds to the amount of sixty or seventy thousand dollars.

The citizenship of the entire town will of course be taxed to pay the bonds, but the greatest burden will fall on the property owners on the streets to be paved.

If ability, character, evidences of official trust well performed, and thorough equipment for the work, count, for anything, then Mike Conner ought to be an easy winner in the race for Governor.

Mike Conner is waking 'em up wherever he goes and his opponents are wishing that he had not gone there.

The Walnut Grove correspondent of the Carthaginian says: "Gov. L. M. Russell, of Jackson, spent one day of the past week here looking over real estate. We understand he purchased 400 or 500 acres of Tuscolameta swamp land." The thought arises here that the governor must have made a pretty good "haul" recently when his friends were called on to put up cash to pay his court expenses in the damage suit trial; or else he did not need any contributions. Otherwise he would not be able to buy large tracts of fine land.—Newton Record.

MRS. COURTNEY FEELS BETTER THAN IN YEARS

Mississippi Woman Says Stella Vitae Did Her More Good Than Anything Else She Has Ever Taken.

"It's a positive fact that two bottles of Stella Vitae have done me more good than anything else I have ever taken," said Mrs. Irene Courtney, Route 5, Box 83, Laurel, Miss. "I suffered from a very painful and serious female trouble that was just sapping the very life out of me and making of me a broken down woman old before my time. Every month when my periods came I would suffer something terrible and there seemed to be no way in which I could get over it. For although I tried different kinds of preparations that were recommended to me I couldn't see that they did me a mite of good and I got so blue and despondent I felt I might as well stop trying to get well, for I seemed to be doomed to suffer the balance of my life.

"When I was in the lowest depths of despair I was induced to try Stella Vitae, and oh, I am so thankful that I did, for it was the turning point in my life and I began to get better right away. The two bottles of Stella Vitae I took make me feel like I had been made over again and I am now in better shape than in years before.

Note—Stella Vitae may be obtained from any druggist and is sold upon the positive guarantee that the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief. Druggists are supplied from the Van Vleet-Mansfield Drug Co., Memphis, Tenn. Distributors.—Adv.

THE FORD WEEKLY PURCHASE PLAN

The Ford Motor Company has just made a nation-wide announcement of the new Ford Weekly Purchase Plan, which is accepted here as a characteristically Ford action and a new and forward-looking move in the marketing of automobiles, to be carried on by the Company's dealer organization numbering over 9,000.

The Ford Weekly Purchase Plan will make it possible for additional millions to own and operate motor cars as under the terms of the plan as little as $5.00 will start anyone toward the ownership of a Ford car, Ford Truck, or Fordson Tractor. This initial payment, as well as all subsequent payments, will be deposited to the customer's credit in a local bank and draw interest at the regular savings rate.

It extends to the whole family an opportunity to participate in the car purchase by permitting each member to contribute a small amount weekly to the Plan with the wholesome effect of inculcating thrift and also demonstrating the benefits to be received from regular and consistent accumulation of funds to spend for things desired.

Read about the plan in The Sentinel this week.

ANOTHER INDUSTRY FOR GRENADA

The Grenada Lumber and Mfg. Co. have taken a long-time lease on the old oil mill property in Grenada and expect to soon install an up-to-date planing mill and do a general wholesale and retail lumber manufacturing business. Several tracts of timber have been purchased on which sawmills will be placed. This concern will afford a ready cash market for the small sawmills in this territory for all dimensions and any amount of pine lumber they manufacture.

Hubert F. Young of Corinth and T. W. Griffin of Calhoun City are the owners of the new enterprise and the superintendent, F. W. Harris, is in his office ready for business.

Graysport, or where it turns off under the survey to lead by Mr. Stark Willis, to Calhoun County line at Williamsville for $5000. This would be a saving to Grenada County, according to the estimates, of $80,000.

We asked for a survey. We asked for a chance to show the merits of the road by Williamsville, and we are glad to be able to say that the survey is now being made.

Very respectfully,

L. A. Martin,

SCHOOL NOTES

Benefits Derived from Dental Inspection.

About the first week in March, Miss Hudson of the State Health Department with the help of the local dentists made a dental inspection of the High School and of the Grammar School. Much valuable information as to the condition of each child's teeth was gained, and this information in letter form was mailed to the parents of each child. The school asked the cooperation of the parents in raising the percentage of perfect teeth. This cooperation was to be secured by each parent sending the child for such dental work as the letter stated. Many parents have cooperated, but many have not yet done so. We beg of you to send your children to the dentist at once for such work on their teeth as the letters sent you specify.

Rewards of various kinds have been offered to the grades upon reaching 100% in teeth perfection. Miss Buchanan's fifth grade has reached the perfect mark, and was rewarded by a visit to the picture show.

To prove that the inspection has truly been a benefit we quote the following percentages of increase in the three departments: High School, 24% increase in teeth perfection; Grammar School, 51% increase in teeth perfection; Primary School 47% increase in teeth perfection. These figures show 40-2-3% total increase in teeth perfection in our school. Surely no one doubts that good has been derived from the work of Miss Hudson. XXX

Mrs. Trotter and the little man are in Memphis yet, but will be home within a week or two.

The above is taken from the Ruleville Record of last week. Mr. Trotter's many friends in Grenada congratulate both him and his very lovely wife and hope that their fondest dreams may be realized in W. C. Jr.

PERRY-CATOE

A wedding that came as a distinct surprise to all who know the young people occurred on Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock when John Ben Perry, Jr., made Miss Lena Webb Catoe his wife. The ceremony was said by Rev. E. R. Henderson, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, at his residence on Third Street.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Catoe of Webb, one of the most prominent families of the Mississippi delta, and has been in school at Grenada College for the past several years. She is an exceedingly vivacious and attractive young woman and during her stay in Grenada has made a host of friends who are glad to know that she is to make her home here. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Perry of Grenada and is from a family equally as prominent. He is known for his industry and attention to business and has had the proper home training necessary to instill the qualities to make a good husband. He is one of Grenada's excellent young men. Mr. Perry has barely reached his majority, yet he has already given evidence of that home training that makes sure of the good citizen. He is diligent and efficient in his duties, gentlemanly in all things and has that intelligence and that ability that insure him more than ordinary success in life.

The College authorities were unaware of the event until after the fast train left that afternoon for Memphis where the couple went to spend their honeymoon. All plans for the wedding were made Sunday evening in the parlors of the College and the affair was kept a strict secret until late Monday.

The Sentinel extends congratulations and best wishes for a smooth voyage through life.

BRINKLEY-ORMAN

The following, taken from an Atlanta paper, will be of interest to the many Grenada friends of the bride who is the daughter of Mrs. Mattie Orman, formerly of Grenada, now of Denver, Colorado:

Brinkley-Orman Marriage of Wide Interest.

An announcement of interest to a wide circle of friends is that of the marriage of Miss Katherine Sherman Orman, recently of Denver, Col., and Mr. Thomas A. Brinkley, of Atlanta.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. G. Shankle, of Grace Methodist church, at noon Wednesday.

The bride is a native of Mississippi, but was reared in Denver, and this announcement will interest a large number of friends in that city.

Mr. Brinkley is known for his activities in local Epworth League work and along automobile row, holding a responsible position with the local branch of the Oakland Motor Car company.

After April 15 they will be at home at 258 East Fifth street.

MR. DOGAN ASKS FOR FULL TERM

DAVE W. DOGAN

The Sentinel is authorized to say to the electorate of Grenada County that Mr. D. W. Dogan, the present sheriff of Grenada County who was elected to fill out the unexpired term of the late D. W. Beck, would greatly appreciate being honored with a full term of the office of sheriff. Mr. Dogan feels that his record justifies him in asking an election at the hands of the people for the next term. He will have served, when his present term expires, but a little over a year and a half, and it is but a very natural ambition for him to seek the office again.

Few will take issue with the statement that Mr. Dogan has been faithful and diligent in his duties. He has gone after the law-breaker without any blare of trumpets and with little ado. He stands for that which is clean and upright as a private citizen, hence it is but natural that he should look on all forms of lawlessness as an affront to society and as inimical to the best welfare of the County. He has needlessly hounded no one in attempting to make captures or to execute papers, yet that good common sense, that intuition and that persistency of purpose has been shown by him which almost makes sure that the law-violator will sooner or later be in his custody.

Dave Dogan is a kindly natured man. Generous of purpose, thoughtfulness of somebody else and a sincere desire to please and accommodate are qualities of the highest order, and the one who possesses them and practices them, as Mr. Dogan does, may truly be said to be favored by fortune.

Mr. Dogan has one of the best citizens in the County in the person of Mr. V. A. Bridgers as his office deputy. There is no compromise with Victor Bridgers when it comes to the law and a plain discharge of a sworn duty. He is painstaking and careful in all things and the fact that Mr. Dogan employed Mr. Bridgers as deputy, is but another evidence of his sound judgment and good horse sense.

The Sentinel feels sure that the people of Grenada County will give Mr. Dogan's candidacy every consideration.

BACK BAD TODAY?

Backache is usually kidney-ache makes you dull, nervous and tired. Use Doan's Kidney Pills for weak kidneys—the remedy recommended by your friends and neighbors. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. Mary Tribble, 207 Green St., Grenada, says: "I know Doan's Kidney Pills are a good medicine as they have been used in our home with beneficial results. I always use them for a disordered condition of my kidneys. My kidneys were weak and caused a lot of annoyance. I had occasional attacks of backache, too. After I began using Doan's Kidney Pills relief followed. I gladly recommend Doan's."

The above statement was given June 14, 1918, and on April 12, 1922, Mrs. Tribble added: "It was surprising to find how soon Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney trouble several years ago. Since then I have only used them occasionally to flush my kidneys. They have kept my kidneys healthy. I cannot praise Doan's too highly."

NORTH CENTRAL MISSISSIPPI FIELD MEET TODAY AND TOMORROW

Athletic Program to be Carried Out at School Grounds Instead of Fair Grounds as First Planned. Literary Events at High School. Declamation, Expression and Music Contests at Grenada College.

All plans are completed for the holding of the North Central Mississippi Field Meet in Grenada today and tomorrow, April 20 and 21. Schools from all over North Mississippi will be represented and hundreds of contestants, as well as others, are expected to be here for the two days' occasion.

Tennis games will be played Friday morning, beginning at ten o'clock on the Grenada College campus. Literary contests will be held at the high school from 2 to 4 p. m. of the same day. Declamation, expression and music preliminaries will take place Friday afternoon at four o'clock and the finals in these contests will be held in the auditorium of Grenada College at 8 o'clock Friday night.

On Saturday, the athletic events will be held on the field at the school grounds instead of at the fair grounds as originally planned. Since the grandstand at the fair grounds has been condemned, it was thought advisable to make this change and arrangements have been made to accommodate the crowds for the meet at the school grounds.

THE REVELL FURNITURE CO.

In the Home Invitation Edition of The Sentinel last week, there was no mention made of the advertisement of Revell Furniture Co. This oversight was purely one on the part of the paper and is greatly regretted by the management. It is customary in editions of that character to make some kind of mention in the news columns of the local concerns who are represented in the advertising columns; the write-up is purely a voluntary matter on the part of the paper and is not expected nor requested by the advertiser but is just of the courtesies a newspaper extends its patrons.

Mr. T. B. Revell, Jr., the proprietor of the Revell Furniture Co., has been in business in Grenada only a few months but in that short time he has impressed the community with his sterling integrity and his ability and attention to business. He is a thoroughly experienced furniture man, having gained his first knowledge of the business with his father who conducts one of the leading furniture stores in one of the large towns of the State of Texas. For several years he represented a large furniture manufacturing concern on the road and this only served to add to his already extensive knowledge of the various lines of furniture. His experience in both the buying and selling end enables him to buy closely and pass the values thus secured on to his customers. Those who are as yet unacquainted with this store and its policies would make no mistake by calling on them the next time they are in the market for furniture. Its advertisements may be seen in The Sentinel regularly and the business that advertises is not afraid for the public to inspect closely what it offers for sale.

REV. TRIGG A. M. THOMAS, D. D., noted evangelist, of Kansas City, is to begin a series of evangelistic services in the Presbyterian church in Grenada, May 3rd. He is widely known in the south, having recently held meetings in Kentucky, Florida and North Carolina. The community is

CHANCERY COURT IN SESSION THIS WEEK

Judge J. G. McGowen of Water Valley has been presiding over the Spring term of the chancery court of Grenada County this week.

There have been the usual number of divorce cases, most of them being of the colored race, however, a few white people have asked to have matrimonial bonds dissolved. There were a number of important matters litigated. Judge McGowen turns off business rapidly, yet he never fails to give every proposition presented that care and attention which it demands.

LESSON FOR APRIL 22

MOSES, LIBERATOR AND LAW-GIVER

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 14:10, 13-22.
GOLDEN TEXT—Fear ye not. Stand still and see the salvation of the Lord.—Exodus 14:13.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Deuteronomy 3:2-3; Psalm 135:4-5; Matthew 17:3; Acts 7:17-44; Hebrews 11:23-29.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Moses the Boy Whom God Saved.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Moses Leads Israel Through the Red Sea.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Moses the Great Leader.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Character of Moses.

I The Birth, Preservation and Education of Moses. (Exodus 8:1-8).

1. His Birth (vv. 1-2). His parents were of the tribe of Levi.

2. His Preservation (vv. 3-8). The faith of his parents caused them to ignore the command of the king and they hid him for three months (Hebrews 11:23). His mother discerned in him a proper child, or a child fair to God (Acts 7:20), and believed him to be the deliverer of his people. Perhaps led by the story of Noah's ark, she made him an ark of bulrushes and placed Moses in it and left it at the place where Pharaoh's daughter would be attracted when she came down to bathe. Miriam, his sister, was placed where she could watch the affair, and at the opportune moment she came with a suggestion of a nurse for the baby; securing her consent, Miriam brought the child's mother.

3. His Education (vv. 9-10). He was educated first at his mother's knee, the place where his character was formed. He was also educated at the Egyptian court, where he became acquainted with the wisdom of Egypt (Acts 7:22).

II. The Call of Moses (Exodus 3).

1. The Lord Speaks From the Bush (vv. 1-6). In the desert the Lord appeared in the vision of the burning bush. When Moses stepped aside to behold this strange thing God taught him the lesson of proper approach unto himself.

2. The Lord Commissions Moses (vv. 7-10). God assured him of his active interest in his people, having seen their affliction, heard their cry, and known their sorrows, and that he had come down to deliver them from the hand of the Egyptian through Moses as His agent.

III. Moses' Contest With Pharaoh (Exodus 5-12). The ten plagues reveal the contest carried on between Moses and Pharaoh before the people were set free. The tenth stroke from the strong hand of the Almighty made Pharaoh willing to let Israel go.

IV. Israel Crossing the Red Sea (Exodus 14:10, 13-22).

1. Israel's Straitened Circumstances (v. 10). At the Lord's direction they changed from their first course and were apparently in great difficulty. The Red sea was before them; the mountains on either side; Pharaoh with his chariots of war was closing in upon them. In their distress they cried to the Lord.

2. Israel's Miraculous Escape (vv. 13-22). (1) Moses' words to the people (vv. 13-14). (a) "Fear not." Since God was leading them by day and by night with the pillar of cloud and fire they had no need of fear, even if they were in straitened circumstances. (b) "Stand still." Standing still in such a trial is faith taking hold of God's promise. (c) "See the salvation of the Lord." "The Lord shall fight for you."

(2) God's words to Moses (vv. 15-18). (a) "Go forward." No use to pray longer when God says "Move forward." (b) "Lift up thy rod." This served as something tangible upon which their faith could rest. They were to go through the sea on dry ground. But the symbol of God's presence now passed to the rear to hold the enemy at bay. (3) The divided sea (vv. 21-22). As they went forward the very thing which they feared became a wall of protection on either side.

8. Overthrow of the Egyptians (vv. 22-27). Having seen the Israelites go across dry shod the Egyptians immediately pursued them, insanely thinking that they could follow in the wake of God's children. That which was a protection to God's children became an instrument of destruction to the Egyptians.

4. Israel's Song of Triumph (15:1-21). They attributed their deliverance and the overwhelming defeat of their enemies to God. They could well sing their song of triumph, for they were on the other shore.

V. The Law Given (Exodus 20:1-17). God gave through Moses to the world a complete code of laws setting forth duties to God and man.

Production of Excellence.
Nothing is such an obstacle to the production of excellence as the power of producing what is good with ease and rapidity.—Alkin.

Truth.
If any one will tell me how truth may be spoken without offending some I will spare no labor to learn the art of it.—Bp. Horne.

More Painful.
Mortifications are often more painful than real calamities.—Goldsmith

PROF. WOODLEY MAKES VISIT TO GRENADA

Prof. F. B. Woodley of Hattiesburg, and candidate for the office of State Superintendent of Education, was in Grenada one day this week and while here paid this office a call. Mr. Woodley seems enthusiastic about the results of his campaign. He seems to be basing his campaign largely upon the idea that Prof. Bond, the present superintendent, has been so careless of the welfare of the children and of the Mississippi public, as he thinks, as to let the school book trust filch lots of money from the parents of the State. He is talking better business in the department of education.

THE "special discount" is tempting, but not when you understand who pays for it. The tire dealer doesn't pay for it. The manufacturer cannot afford to. Chances are it comes out of the quality of the tire, so, after all, you pay for it. None of the quality of Goodyear Tires ever is sacrificed to "special discounts" or anything else.

As Goodyear Service Station Dealers we sell and recommend Goodyear Tires and back them up with standard Goodyear Service out some of the hair pins. There were no verbal combats that bordered on acrimony. A due regard for parliamentary proceedings was all the while manifested.

GREAT MEETING OF STATE
FEDERATION WOMEN'S CLUBS

Mrs. Josie Frazee Chappleman, a former president of the Mississippi Federation but now a resident of Arkansas was present much to the delight of the convention.

Mrs. Thos. G. Winter, president of the national federation, was present and greatly pleased the convention. Mrs. Winter's address Wednesday evening on the "American Home," gave the view most admirably of the women who see home life and home conditions from an angle not discussed twenty five years ago, yet at the same time she held aloft the home as the ideal place for planting in the child those sublime truths and virtues without which there can be no true womanhood or true manhood.

The convention went on record as favoring a medical examination both for men and for women before marriage.

The convention filed a protest with the agricultural department at Washington against changing the name of "home economics work" to "home extension work" and also against what is stated to be the policy of the agricultural department to make women's work subordinate to men's.

One of the goals announced by the national president for the federation is a membership of 2,000,000.

The musical contest Tuesday night which was participated in by the Woman's College at Hattiesburg, by Belhaven College at Jackson and by Grenada College, excited great interest. Only a few minutes after the contest was over, announcement was made that Grenada College was the winner and was therefore entitled to the silver loving cup, but it was stated Wednesday afternoon that it was found that an error had been made and that Belhaven College was the winner.

The noon luncheons were served in the spacious dining hall of Grenada College and each one was a sort of feast of soul and flow of fitting words and phrases.

A tea was served, through the kindness of Mr. Borden, in the beautiful banquet hall of the Glenwild home on Wednesday afternoon. This tea gave the delegates not only an opportunity to see this lovely and almost palatial farm home but also an opportunity to see the great things at Glenwild in the way of fine cattle and hogs as well as a well apporportioned farm.

ANOTHER COMMUNI-CATION ABOUT ROAD

reason out that we can build and finish with hard surface our East and West road of twenty five miles with this four hundred thousand dollars.

It is reasonable to suppose that you Grenada folks will begin to wonder why we Calhoun folks are willing to build this part of the road that contains the crossing for Yalobusha bottom, which will probably be a little longer for Calhoun County than to build on original survey.

1. We will show by this survey that the extra expense to Calhoun County will be a small item as this survey is in second bottom country except about one mile directly across bottom and can be built at less expense per mile than out on hills.

2. By crossing river in our County we give an outlet to a big population in our County that would be near the highway but would be deprived of its benefits if built on Coles Creek survey.

We might mention, too, that these people were folks that voted 80% for the bond issues which we know made possible the building of these highways. If we had voted only 20% for the bond issues like our neighbors over at Coles Creek there would be no North and South and East and West highways.

Really we who voted to make possible these highways think we should have some consideration of the locations.

3. At least we think this is nearer the "Eagles Route".

The "negro in the woodpile" argument sounds absurd, sounds skeptical.

It looks a reflection on the good name of our friend, Banker J. T. Thomas, who we all know as head of about all the banks in this County that has this bond money on deposit. We think Grenada Bank and its branches have no trouble to possess at all times reserve money to lend us than we have security to offer, and too, we know that they lend us more in many cases than we are able to pay back at maturity and even before they had a dollar of Calhoun County bond money.

We believe Mr. Thomas has advocated even every log road move in his banking district. We also place him right at top for every good, progressive movement not only by his personal support but with his means and the means of his banks. We want to help hold up his hands against such accusations as depriving road building on this highway in order to lend this bond money at a higher rate of interest to tax payers in this County.

In conclusion we want to beg you Cole Creek people to assist us in this movement in order that we may have an equal chance with you to travel this highway. We are not asking to have this road any nearer our places than you will be on this new survey.

DR. FERGUSON ON PUBLIC EXTRAVAGANCE

men or else they would not be employed.

What I am talking about is conditions. Of course if there is a "board" or a "commission" created, there must be somebody, or there will be somebody, found to fill it. The work is easy and the pay good, and it is but human for one to accept one of these jobs, but every time one is created, the burden down the line is increased and the taxpayers must dig a little deeper into their pockets at the next tax-paying time.

With two thirds of the people of the United States in the cities and still increasing and one third in the country and still decreasing, it seems that any reasoning mind would agree that we need to change our plans of doing. Let's try to do more ourselves and depend less on commissions and boards for which we must pay.

Yours truly,
W. P. FERGUSON

DODGE BROTHERS
TYPE-A SEDAN

Its dependability is taken for granted—its economy of operation is proverbial.

Comment, as a rule, is directed to the richness of its fittings, and the dignified beauty of its coach work.

This beauty is not a superficial thing. It goes much deeper than mere external adornments.

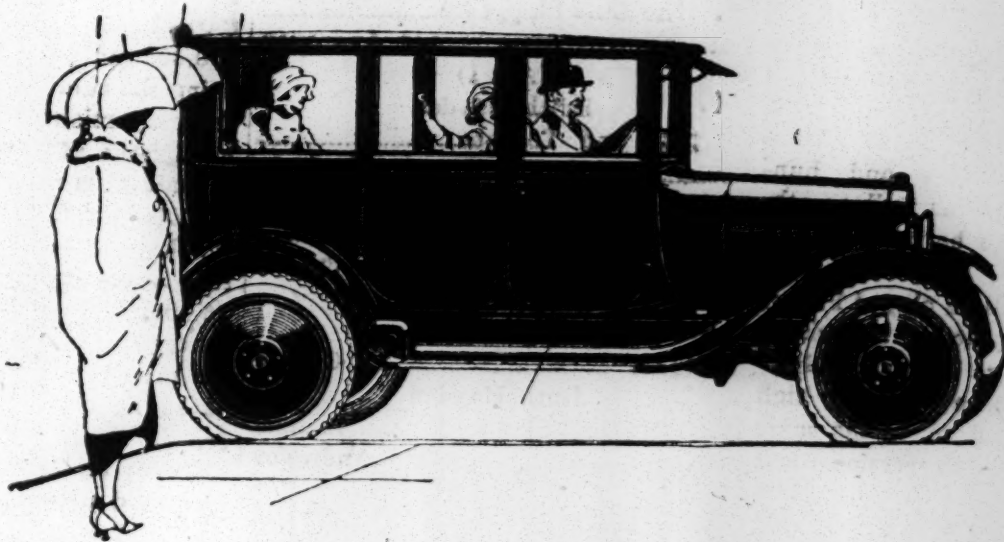

Like all creations of genuine excellence, it emanates from the honest value which Dodge Brothers have built into the car.

You sense it in the depth and comfort of the seats—richly upholstered in genuine mohair velvet. It makes itself known the instant you close the doors—which snap solidly shut, like the doors of a safe. It emanates unmistakably from every line and curve of the sturdy body.

It becomes most evident when you discover that in smart company, where a car of less distinction would appear at its worst, Dodge Brothers Type-A Sedan appears at its best.

The price of the Business Coupe is $1105 delivered
